

Corona is more than just numbers - it's people who count

Worksheet for global-corona.blog

The global-corona.blog started in April 2020 at the beginning of the worldwide pandemic, the border closures, lockdowns and the closing of schools in different countries all over the world. Originally it was supposed to be a merely informative project but now we want to invite you to contribute your thoughts and to participate in the project.

Task:

Please make yourself familiar with the welcome page of <https://global-corona.blog/start-en.html> .

There you will find only the latest videos. But there are many more! Numerous videos are to be found behind every country tags. Just click through them! Advice: If you are using a notebook or a tablet, you will find the country categories on the right side of the screen. If you are using a mobile phone, just scroll down to find the different country tags. You got the general idea? Now, please, choose a country or a person from a different country and watch the corresponding videos! Please answer the following questions:

Part I: Questions about the videos:

1. Which country or which person caught your interest? Why?

2. What do you already know about the country this person lives in?

3. Which new information did you learn about the country?

4. What was surprising for you while watching the video? What moved you?

5. When were those videos produced? Do you remember, how you felt at this time? If so, what were your thoughts?

(You will find information regarding the recording date in the title strip or below the title of the article.)

6. Which of the mentioned challenges are new to you and why?

7. If you had the chance to talk to the person directly, what would you ask her or him?

8. ... or what would you rather like to tell her or him, which advice would you give? What would that be?

(If you prefer to communicate in person, you are welcome to post a comment referring to questions 7 or 8 in the blog!)

Part II: General questions:

1. What do you think is being talked about too much during this pandemic or what should be discussed much more? (media: YouTube, Instagram, TV etc.; family, school, friends)

2. Which cases of injustice did you notice during the crisis?

3. What do you think (the people the world) we should learn from the crisis to make the world a fairer place?

4. What do you think? Why are projects like the global-corona.blog important?

5. If you were to shoot a video about the pandemic situation, what would it be about?
